All of Official Washington at Hoar Wedding

Leaders of Capitol Society,
Led by President, See
Stepdaughter of Speaker
Become Mrs. R. Foster

Big Reception Follows

Executive and Wife Have Busy Week at White House;
Polo Games Attract Many

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Mid-June week was a delightful mixture of society, politics and sporting life, the President and Mrs. Harding playing a more important part than usual. Political and social events were in the air, and the polo match between American and Cuban officers touched up sporting life in sprightly manner. For a fact, the capital showed a more important part than usual. Political and social events were in the air, and the polo match between American and Cuban officers touched up sporting life in sprightly manner. For a fact, the capital showed a more important part than usual.

Socially, the reception given Wednesday night at the Metropolitan in honor of the President and Mrs. Harding was the most notable event of the week. Woodbury Blair, president of the club, and Rear Admiral Richard Wright, vice-president, received with President and Mrs. Harding, and there were music and a buffet supper. Mrs. Harding was one of the most exquisite evening gowns seen in Washington in a long time, and she looked truly regal. It was of creamy white net, embroidered almost all over with iridescent crystal beads. There was a train of considerable length and a giraffe of blue velvet gracefully arranged. Her wrap was one of the handsomest seen in a long time, being a simple, elegant, and well-cut garment of orange and brown gold brocade. The club boasts more dignitaries as members than almost any other club in America, having Presidents, Vice-Presidents, Cabinet members, Ambassadors and Senators on its roster. Almost the only other time in its history when women were entertained at a dinner at the White House was when the wives of the members were guests at an afternoon reception.

President and Mrs. Harding

Have Busy Week at White House

The President and Mrs. Harding kept things moving briskly at the White House, scarcely missing a day without guests at dinner and luncheon. Mrs. Harding was particularly busy at her busiest time, that Mrs. Harding took her secretary, Miss Harlan, with her and visited the Red Cross rooms at Jackson Place, where the soldier citizens of the Elizabeth Hotel had their work on sale. She bought a number of useful and ornamental articles. The Vice-President and Mrs. Coolidge also had a strenuous week socially, and before they left Friday for New Orleans, the birthplace of President McKinley, where Mr. Coolidge delivered an address. From Ohio Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were expected to speak at the college and on Tuesday they will start on the return trip to Washington.

Quite the most important social affair of the week was a wedding afternoon at the stepdaughter of the Speaker, Frederick H. Gillett, Miss Colette Hoar, to Reginald Foster, of Boston. The ceremony took place at the Episcopal Church on Lafayette Square—almost the smallest church in Washington—was the creme de la creme of the diplomatic corps and Mrs. Gillett, the Ambassador of Peru and Mrs. de Pezot and other ambassadors and ministers with their wives, and Mr. Rev. Alfred Harding, Bishop of Washington, officiated, the service being particularly brief. However, the length of the wedding procession, with its ten ushers, best man, maid of honor, flower girl and bridesmaids, six bridesmaids in all, made up for the brevity of service. The yellow and white effect carried out was particularly suggestive of early summer and nothing could have been prettier. Attending the bride was Miss Louise Rice Hoar, her sister, and preceding them was Catherine Tappan, niece of the bridegroom, and his two young nieces, Miss Hilda Foster and Miss Barbara Foster.

Mrs. Geraldyn L. Redmond at Gedney Farm

SHE is pictured taking Radiant over the jumps at the Westchester Horse Show at Gedney Farms last week. The show was well patronized by society and lasted from Wednesday to yesterday.

Charles I. Foster was best man, and the ten ushers were Leland Harrison and Warren Delano Robbins, of Washington; Richard Whitney, of New York; G. Colket Caner, of Philadelphia; Charles E. Cotting, Albert W. Rice, Robert M. Tappan, of Boston, and Albert D. Farver and Theodore Siner, of Cedarhurst. L. L. brothers-in-law of the bridegroom.

The costuming for the wedding was exceedingly original, a point for which the Misses Hoar have been noted since their "coming out." The bride selected her gown while abroad, just before the engagement was announced, and it was altogether beautiful. It was of soft georgette in ivory white, the bodice cut square in the neck and slightly draped, as was the skirt, while the real feature was the court train of cloth of silver lined with georgette. Her veil was of rose point, arranged simply across a coiffure and held over either ear with a cluster of orange blossoms. Orange blossoms sprayed both the veil and gown and the sandals of silver brocade with old Strauss sparkles were of the most characteristic touch. She wore a string of pearls and her flowers were a sheaf of perhaps a half dozen white lilies, a few gardenias being tied in with the ribbon tulle where they were held to the gown. Her mother, Mrs. Gillett, laid aside black for the first time since the death of her father, Mr. Gillett, and wore an orchid shade of georgette gracefully shaped and with a cluster of the same shade trimmed with flowers. The Speaker escorted the bride. Miss Louise Hoar, maid of honor, wore a dress of the most beautiful in costumes, fashioned in a hoop-shaped skirt of cream yellow lace over white tulle, and with a giraffe and clusters of small flowers shading from peach-blow pink to flame color, and adding to the picturesque effect was a deep veil of yellow lace turned back from the face. The gowns worn by the bridesmaids were much simpler, being of dove cream georgette simply adorned with a few small flowers of gold and yellow straw were wreathed in nasturtiums. They carried flowers shading from flame and red to pink shades.

Mrs. Harding's costume excited interest also and was of deep cream ecru lace over black, worn with a wide brimmed black hat with ostrich feathers. The Vice-President and Mrs. Coolidge were also wearing important places, and the Senators from Massachusetts, the entire Massachusetts delegation in the House, the dean of the diplomatic corps and Mrs. Gillett, the Ambassador of Peru and Mrs. de Pezot and other ambassadors and ministers with their wives, and Mr. Rev. Alfred Harding, Bishop of Washington, officiated, the service

White Mountains Resorts Show Life As the Hotels Open

Early Season Guests Arrive and Rush Is Expected in Week; Tourney on Traps
Is Planned at Maplewood

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

WHITE MOUNTAINS, N. H., June 18.—Activity at the White Mountains resorts is again to the fore. This week brings the opening of many of the hotels throughout the resort region, and within ten days the Crawford House at Crawford, the Waumbek at Jefferson and the Mountain View House at Whitefield will be welcoming their early guests. The Mount Pleasant House at Bretton Woods opened today with C. J. Dunphy, the well known golfer, again as manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Clifford Brown, of New York and Portland, who have not missed a summer at the Mount Pleasant in many years, will be here for the entire season. Mrs. Edward C. Chisholm and party, of New York, are among those who will be at the Mount Pleasant for the early summer. Among those who will form the New York set there are Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Carey, Miss Mary Minford and Mr. and Mrs. Abbott B. Thompson.

Bretton Arms, at Bretton Woods, has been open for some time to accommodate those fishing and motoring parties reaching the White Mountains during the early season. The Bretton Woods golf links is in splendid shape, and the hotel is in the best of order. The first group of candidates from the South End School in Boston have arrived to earn their summer vacation. The Crawford House, which opens June 19, has under way a number of changes and additions so that a large number of tourists can be accommodated. The North Canteen is being improved, and in addition to afternoon teas and luncheon for the passing motorists will be served.

Frederick Everett Thompson, of the Plaza, who has been in Europe this spring, will return to the Crawford House for the summer, where she will be joined by Mr. Thompson.

Anniversary of Crawford North

Discovery to Be Celebrated

It is expected that a celebration of the 100th anniversary of the discovery of Crawford North will be held next week following Labor Day. The New England Trails Conference, as well as other New England societies, has been at work to develop a program to commemorate this event.

Packets on Sugar Hill, which is open the year around, is entertaining many early season guests and the homes on Sugar Hill surrounding the lovely place are being opened for the summer. The Sunnyside Hill House and the Hotel Lookout, also on Sugar Hill, are in readiness for the usual summer crowds that will arrive late this month and in July.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Martin are to be at the Mountain View House at Whitefield this season, where Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Shady, annual visitors, will also come. Mr. and Mrs. James J. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Taylor and Mrs. Lawrence Hurlburt are others who will be there from New York. Mrs. Jean Neville will open her house at Whitefield for the exhibition of the habitation bedsprings and home decorative articles. An attractive room in conjunction with the shop will be managed by Miss Stoughton, who formerly operated the Wander-Inn tea-room, not far from the Mountain View House.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Shute are establishing the cottages at the Waumbek at Jefferson. N. H. Mrs. Shute came up early for the fly fishing and has spent most of her time in the open. Many members of the colony at the Laurel Inn, at Lakewood, N. J., will be at the Waumbek for the season. The annual White Mountain golf championship, featured on the Waumbek course late in August or early September, is one of the most popular events in the White Mountains. Weekly putting contests in addition to several informal golf and tennis are interesting features at the Waumbek.

Tournament Brings Many Trapshooters to Maplewood

City, L. L. and New York, who have spent many summers at Bretton Woods, will be at the Maplewood for the season. Dr. and Mrs. George A. Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Livingston and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lawrence will be among the New York parties there.

Though the opening date of the Winter Inn at Dixville Notch, operated in conjunction with the Balsams, was set for June 15, the demand for accommodations has been so great that parties passing through the Notch have been making their "one night" stays there. Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Ashley, of New York, who are making an early tour of the White Mountains, stopped there en route through the Notch. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bangs, of Bridgeport, of Arlington, are among other visitors at the Winter Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wendell and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Williams, of New York, will be among the summer sojourners at the Balsams following its opening July 1.

Mrs. A. Livingston Fox, of New York, arrived this week at the Elm Tree Inn, Colebrook, N. H., to spend the summer, and motoring there from Buffalo, N. Y., where she is a resident. Mrs. Fox, of Detroit, who will remain through the summer. Dr. M. A. G. Dight, formerly of New York, has opened her cottage, Rocky Knoll, at Colebrook for the summer.

The proposed establishment of an airline service from Profile House to Forest Hills at Franconia and to Bethlehem has caused great interest in the possibilities of aviation in the mountains. If the trial trips meet with success it is expected that passenger service to other points in the mountains will be started.

Many Attend Graduation At Garden City School

Twelve Cathedral Girls Receive
Diplomas at Two-Day
Exercises

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

GARDEN CITY, L. I., June 18.—This has been another week of unusual social activity at all the Nassau County centers and at Garden City the closing exercises of the Cathedral school of St. Mary's attracted a notable gathering. The twelve graduates were given a dinner at the Garden City Hotel by Miss Dorothy Lannin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lannin. The class of 1921 includes Miss Charlotte Adams, Miss Dorothy Boyce, Miss Margaret Cary, Miss Janet DeLaney, Miss Alice, Miss Alice, Miss Eleanor Marsh, Miss Eleanor Menelley, Miss Eleanor May, Miss Edith Sims, Miss Genevieve Watson and Miss Elaine Williams. Class day exercises were held Monday and on Tuesday the commencement took place in the Cathedral of the Incarnation.

An unusually large number of bank-ers and their friends attended the annual spring dinner on Saturday evening at the Garden City Hotel. It proved one of the most notable events of the season. The speakers were G. A. O'Reilly, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman and Monroe Douglas Robinson. The guests were Mrs. George W. Chauncey, Mrs. John W. Cornwell, Mrs. Samuel H. Coombs, Mrs. John W. Canfield, Mrs. Frederick D. MacKay, Mrs. Charles A. Kittle, Mrs. James Lancaster Morgan, Mrs. David F. Manning, Mrs. Charles L. Pray, Mrs. H. Hamilton Salmon and Mrs. Charles L. Wiese.

Golf, tennis and polo has been particularly exciting this week. There will be an eager crowd in the hotel lobbies for the next few evenings to obtain the results of the international polo match. Arrivals from New York City at the Garden City Hotel are: Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Robbins and Miss Robbins, Mrs. Frederic C. Neilson, Mrs. S. O. Vanderpool, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome N. Bonaparte, Mr. and Mrs. La Fayette Page Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Starr, Mrs. William Sinclair, Dr. George A. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. William Howard Taft, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Myles, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Renard, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. French, Dr. and Mrs. S. M. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. John McCoy, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Powers, Mr. J. H. Amidon and Miss Elsie Schuyler Crane.

Many Waterways In the Adirondacks To Be Rechristened

Move Begun to Supplant Names Like 'Mud Pond'
and 'Bog Lake' With Titles of Historic Value

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

ADIRONDACK MOUNTAINS, N. Y., June 18.—Summer sojourners this season will join with local workers in a movement to lend dignity and distinction to the names of Adirondack waterways and mountains. An effort will be made to enlist the cooperation of the new Conservation Commissioner Ellis J. Staley and the rechristening of many waterways especially may result. Such names as Mud Pond, Bog Lake and the like are considered beneath the dignity of such a wonderful resort region as this, and a well-defined movement is now shaping itself to substitute titles that shall honor Emerson, Lowell, Agassiz, "Adirondack" Murray, "Ned Buntline" Edward Z. C. Judson, Theodore Roosevelt, Dr. E. L. Trudeau, S. L. Stoddard, Harry W. Radford, Paul Smith, the late George A. Stevens and many others.

At principal points such as Saranac Lake Village, Lake Placid and Elizabethtown the unusual demand for accommodations has forced building booms in the face of high prices for materials. The Saranac Lake Chamber of Commerce has sponsored a "dig in and dig out" movement for the erection of more bungalows. The initial buildings to be put up by the members of the chamber itself. Fifteen new cottages are added to Lake Placid's accommodations, the most pretentious of these being the beautiful summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stevens, erected near the Stevens House at a cost of $30,000.

New Golf Course Will Be Laid Out at Elizabethtown

In addition to much building at Elizabethtown steps were taken this week toward laying out another golf course. Two tracts of land both well suited for the purpose, were looked over by Seymour Dunn, professional at the Lake Placid Club, whose report will be acted on at a meeting of the club held at the hotel here later. Benjamin F. Stetson, the Rev. H. H. Pittman and other members of the club went over the proposed course with Mr. Dunn. Improvements at Elizabethtown include those at the Windsor Hotel, which has now been purchased by Henry S. Duncan, proprietor of the hotel at the Lake Placid Club. Mr. Duncan, who is also the proprietor of the Continental, is manager of the Windsor. Improvements also have been made at Deer's Head Inn. At both hotels at the end of the summer colony awaiting completion of changes in their summer homes.

Frank A. Munsey is making extensive improvements in and about Garondah, his Elizabethtown estate, and Thomas W. Lamb, New York architect, is making alterations upon his cottage in the village.

Members of the Elizabethtown summer colony, expected back early for the season, are Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Flammer, of New York, who will entertain a house party of friends over the Fourth at Singing Waters, their cottage in the village. Judge Augustus N. Hand and family, of New York; Erman J. Ridgway and family and Colonel John Temple Graves and family, of New York. The Powlson cottage in the Balsams group at Elizabethtown has been leased for the season by Mrs. Lewis Heck, of Harrisburg, Pa., who arrived recently.

Fishing, motoring and horseback riding are affording great sport to members of the younger set now arriving at Westport-on-Lake Champlain, where the center of social activities during the season will be Westport Inn. Members of the Westport summer colony, expected back early for the season, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall, of New York, who spent the winter at Savannah. He is accompanied by his daughters, Misses Marshall, Mrs. Correr Harris, of New York, who has returned to the Westport colony has reserved the Homestead for the season.

Preparations Are Being Made
For Memorial to Macdonough

Preparations for erection of the proposed national and state memorial to Commodore Macdonough are now going forward at Lake Placid under the direction of the Plattsburgh Centennial Commission, the officers of which include John F. O'Brien, chairman, Mrs. George O'Brien, Mrs. John W. Hadley, treasurer, and Charles M. Harrington, secretary.

At Lake Placid arrangements for the opening of the vacation season will be forward with the arrival of Dr. Henry O. Marey Jr., of Brookline, Mass., president of the Lake Placid Yacht Club, Dr. S. Benson, of Passaic, N. J., secretary of the Shore Owners' Association, has arrived at his camp on Lake Placid and other officers of that organization expected soon are Professor Edwin R. A. Seligman, of Columbia University, the president, and C. Bahnsen, of Passaic, treasurer. Victor Herbert, Mrs. Marcella Sembrich, George O. Hand and other members of Lake Placid's summer colony who will return for the season at that resort. Victor Herbert and his family will occupy her cottage at Lake Placid Club, the Maples, and George Hamlin and his family will sojourn at their Swiss chalet on Signal Hill.

Card Party Will Be Held To Aid Ex-Servicemen

Mrs. H. C. Coe Chairman of Event at Plaza Tuesday for American Land Service

Mrs. Henry Clark Coe is chairman of a card party to be given at the Hotel Plaza on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in interest of the American Land Service. The fund is to be used for paying carfare for the ex-servicemen who have work awaiting them.

Arthur Williams is chairman of the organization, John Warren is treasurer and Miss Monica Barry Walsh is the executive secretary. Among those on the advisory committee are: George Gordon Bartlett, Guyton Borglum, Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Francis M. Hugo, Miss Georgine Iselin, Edward R. Koch, Judge Samuel D. Levy, Dean A. R. Mann of Cornell, C. C. Miller, Alfred E. Smith, Thaddeus C. Sweet, Owen J. Stevens and Elen Hooker. The tickets for cards will be $1 each, obtainable at the Hotel Plaza and from Mrs. Henry Clark Coe, Hotel Blackstone, 50 East Fifty-eighth Street. All money obtained at this card party will go direct to the fund as there are no overhead charges. Already a large number of tables have been reserved.

Mozart Golf Circle Will Hold Tourney on June 30

Event at Sleepy Hollow Club
Will Be Followed by Luncheon and Cards

The Golf Circle of the New York Mozart Society, of which Mrs. Noble McConnell is president, will hold its first tournament on June 30 at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club. The play is to be followed by luncheon and cards. Mrs. William Maynard Haraden has been appointed chairman of hospitality for this feature of the meetings.

A tennis tournament soon will be started by members of the society under the chairmanship of Miss Beatrix McConnell. The first games will be played June 30 at the Sleepy Hollow Country Club.

Mrs. Frank A. Petter, one of the governors of the Mozart Society, gave a dinner and entertainment at their summer home at Scarsdale, where they will entertain golfing parties throughout the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Noble McConnell are located at their summer home at Scarsdale, where they will entertain golfing parties throughout the summer.

Narragansett Pier Season Lively as Three Hotels Open

Many of Summer Colony
Open Villas and Old New England Resort Is Active;
Bathing Beaches Improved

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

NARRAGANSETT PIER, June 18.—With the formal opening of three of the hotels at Narragansett Pier the past week and the arrival of many more in the villa colony, this resort is beginning to assume something of its summer atmosphere.

The Massasoit and Revere hotels and Green Inn opened during the week and the Point Judith Country Club on Wednesday.

Of paramount interest to all newcomers and old habitués at the Pier is the now incorporated Narragansett Pier Improvement Association, under whose auspices Narragansett Pier is undergoing permanent changes for the better. Captain Isaac E. Emerson, of Baltimore, president of the association, with Mrs. Emerson, has just arrived at Emerson villa on the Cliff, from a visit with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Baker, at Lenox, Mass. Both Captain Emerson and George J. Naphen, of New York, vice-presidents of the association, are enthusiastic over the big changes to be made at the bathing beach.

Burnside Will Be Made
Into an Up-to-Date Hotel

A large force of workmen is at the beach pushing the work, that it may be completed, at least in part, by the time the season approaches its height. The improvement association will make an up-to-date hotel of the Burnside, opposite the Casino, with palm garden, a new sea dining room with all the latest improvements, and a new swimming pool, connected with private bath, and the association expects to have it open by the 15th of July for business. It is also intended to take down the first store next the hotel, and to open up the land, send it down and have a park effect.

The Sherry Bathing Pavilion also is to be put in a new condition. An innovation there will be music by an orchestra at the bathing hour, this to be introduced early in July.

Other improvements at the bathing beach include the recent removal of three of the unsightly old bath houses, opening up more of the beach. Next year nearly all of the old bath houses will be removed, and new bath houses will be laid this year and the objectionable peanut and lunch stand features removed. The association has purchased the Sea View Railroad Station, near the bathing beach, and land whereon its stands, which will be cleaned up and used for parking spaces.

The Scarborough Beach Bathing Club, two miles south of the Pier, on the Point Judith Road, opened the last week, with Ray Palmer in charge. The golf links and tennis courts at the Point Judith Country Club are in the hands of the association, and will be opened before the opening of the Casino on July 2. The Country Club forms the chief social center of the Narragansett region.

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Roelker and family, of Providence, formerly of New York, arrived at the Crystal Spring Farm, on Kingston Road, Narragansett Pier, on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. I. McDonnell, of Providence, arrived at their villa, Linden Hall, on Central Street, on Wednesday.

Mrs. Albert Bond Lambert and family, with Mrs. Lambert's mother, Mrs. George McGrew, of St. Louis, have arrived and are at Sagamore villa, on Robinson Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. I. McDonnell, of Providence, and their daughter, Miss Bertha Samuel, are at their villa, Meadow View, on Boston Neck Road, on Wednesday.

Many Other Villas Are Opened for the Season

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Dilworth, of Pittsburgh and New York, have arrived at their villa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. I. Goddard, of Providence, opened their villa, Indian Rock, on the Cliff, on Friday for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Rush Sturges, of Providence, the latter a sister of Mrs. Goddard, arrived at their villa in Earl's Court on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron S. Watson, of Providence, with their daughters, the Misses Betty Watson, Annie Potter Watson and Hope Watson, arrived at their country place at Wakefield, in the Narragansett region, on Thursday.

Thousand Islands Cottage Colony Is Growing Rapidly

Week Brings Many to Open
Summer Homes; Informal
Parties at Yacht Club and Golfing Add to Activity

Special Dispatch to The Tribune

ALEXANDRIA BAY, N. Y., June 18.—The week has brought many of the cottage colony, and there have been numerous small, informal parties given at the Thousand Islands Yacht Club. Early mornings and afternoons there are many golfers noticed on the links at the Thousand Islands Country Club, including the A. Graham Miles, E. F. Wilbur, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fellows Morgan, of 70 Park Avenue, New York, arrived last week, and are at their cottage on Paros island, near Clay City, N. Y. Mrs. Morgan will have with her her daughter, Mrs. Frederick Prun, of Albany, and Mrs. Cleveland E. Dodge, another daughter, of New York.

Commodore and Mrs. Thomas H. Wheeler, of New York, have arrived at the Thousand Islands, and are occupying their home, Wau-Wau-Net, near Clay City. Mr. Wheeler, of New York, who was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. C. Leverett Hayden, has returned to her home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George C. Boldt, at The Birchens.

Commodore and Mrs. J. H. Hammond are expected to arrive the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Birge, of Buffalo, will pass a portion of the summer at Alexandria Bay, on their cruise, Miss Liberty.

Archdeacon Forman, of the diocese of Central New York, is at Alexandria Bay for some time.

E. P. Wilbur Jr., of South Bethlehem, Pa., arrived at his summer cottage on Sport Island.

Osbornes Have Houseboat
Arcadia Put in Order

Mrs. Robert A. Osborne, of New York, arrived last week and is having her houseboat, Arcadia, put in order for summer occupancy. Mr. Osborne arrives Sunday. Mrs. James H. Tillinghast, of Albany, and Mrs. Margaretta Wilbur, of New York, will spend July with their mother, Mrs. Osborne.

Mrs. William B. Hayden, who has been absent from the Thousand Islands for several years, will be at her cottage on Hayden Island this summer. With her will be her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen Hayden, and her daughter, Mrs. Calvin Burr.

Mrs. Miss Henry Wiser will spend the summer with Mr. Wiser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac P. Wiser, at their island home. Mrs. Sally J. Farnham, the New York sculptress, will spend a portion of the summer with the Wises. Mrs. Wiser is a sister of Mrs. Farnham.

Mrs. W. Newell Bannard Jr. will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Markie, on Imperial Island.

Mrs. John West Hornor, of New York, arrived last week and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham Miles on Wesley Island.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Downey, of Tenafly, N. J., went down to Montreal in their yacht Kismet last week, taking a party of friends aboard.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Remington Nichols, of New York, will spend the summer at their cottage at this resort.

Many New Yorkers Guests
Of Cottages on Islands

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noble, of New York, are expected to arrive this week, on a visit to Mr. Noble's brother, Edward J. Noble, at his cottage on the Canadian side.

Mrs. William T. Dewart and her three children arrived last week and are at their new home, Kee-Wah-Din. Their new yacht Amabel has been put in commission.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beals Brown, of Columbus, Ohio, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Langdon Hayden, at Hayden Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Bagby, of New York, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Courtland Penfield, at Hopewell Hall.
